

HELBLING ENGLISH Webinars

NEW SEASON

September - November 2021

- Thomas Strasser
Learning spaces - learning paces: Learner autonomy with digital tools
Tuesday 14 September
- Philip Kerr
When is it OK for students (and teachers) to use their own language?
Thursday 28 October
- Jack Scholes
Good readers make good learners!
Thursday 25 November

www.helbling.com/english

Welcome to our NEW webinars!

Be inspired by our speakers in 2021 and register for our free online webinars.

Stay up to date with the latest developments in the world of ELT and interact with our experts. Hear from leading authors and get practical tips for your own English classes.

Our webinars are held monthly and are completely free.

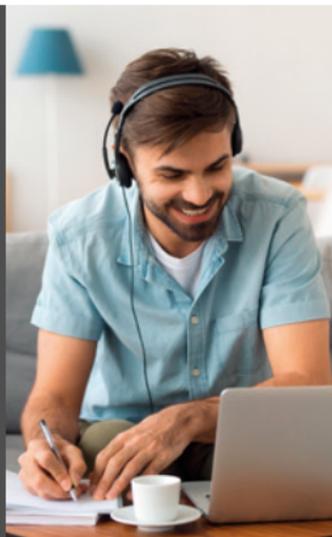

Certificates are available for all attendees.

How do I register for the webinars?

Simply select the event you wish to attend by using the registration button on our website:
www.helbling.com/english

After you have successfully signed-up, you will receive an email with instructions on how to access the webinar.

If you have any further questions please contact marketing.elt@helbling.com

Stay informed!

Register for the HELBLING newsletter to receive updates about the planned webinar series and new ideas for your lessons. Keep up to date with all that is happening at Helbling English with our informative newsletter for teachers.

Register for the Helbling newsletter

Further information about the webinars programme and the archive of previous webinar recordings can be found at:

▶ www.helbling.com/english

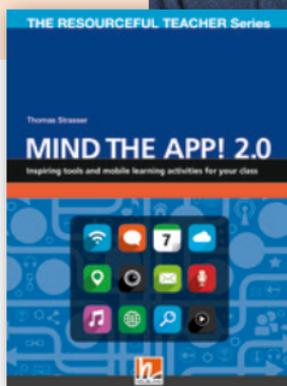

Learning spaces - learning paces: Learner autonomy with digital tools

This hands-on workshop will focus on learner control and reflection inside and outside the classroom. How can EFL-learners independently use learning technologies like blogs, vlogs, Edu-Apps or portfolios? How can EFL-teachers help learners develop autonomous learning skills (self-assessment, curation skills, self-motivation skills, project skills).

Plus: how can EFL-learners autonomously improve the 4 skills?

Speaker: Thomas Strasser

Thomas Strasser is Professor of foreign language methodology and technology-enhanced learning/teaching and teacher trainer at the University College of Teacher Education Vienna.

Tuesday 14 September, 2021

7:00 AM & 3:00 PM • UK TIME

Each one-hour talk will take place twice on the same day - please select the most convenient time for you before you register.

 www.helbling.com/english

When is it OK for students (and teachers) to use their own language?

It wasn't so long ago that it was generally agreed that English was best learnt in lessons where only English is spoken. Times have changed. The last ten years have seen a growing recognition of the important role that the learners' L1 has to play in learning English. We'll be looking at when and why it sometimes makes sense for learners to use their own language in English lessons.

Speaker: Philip Kerr

Philip Kerr is a teacher trainer, lecturer, and writer of educational materials. His publications include methodology books for teachers and a number of best-selling coursebooks for adults and young adults. He is particularly interested in the role of technology in language teaching.

Thursday 28 October, 2021

4:00 PM UK TIME

Each one-hour talk will take place twice on the same day - please select the most convenient time for you before you register.

 www.helbling.com/english

Good readers make good learners!

Extensive reading not only improves all language skills and fluency, but also enhances memory and cognitive processes in general, and greatly increases students' motivation and confidence. This talk will examine the principles of extensive reading and the many benefits of reading for pleasure. Practical ideas and activities will also be offered to help you make extensive reading an integral part of every language-learning programme.

Speaker: Jack Scholes

Jack has over 45 years experience in ELT in many countries around the world. He is an international teacher trainer and conference speaker for Helbling, and author of several books for EFL learners and teachers, including Helbling Readers.

Thursday 25 November, 2021

9:00 AM & 4:00 PM • UK TIME

Each one-hour talk will take place twice on the same day - please select the most convenient time for you before you register.

 www.helbling.com/english